MARGIN IMPROVING WITH SCALE: CEO

Black Box eyes $2 bn revenue in 3 years

SAMEER RANJAN BAKSHI Bengaluru, December 19

ESSAR GROUP'S IT solution provider Black Box (formerly AGC Networks) aims to double its revenue to $2 billion in the next three years, Sanjeeb Verma, president and CEO, Black Box, said in an interaction with FE on Tuesday.

Currently, the company sees an annual revenue run rate of about ₹7,000 crore. It is looking to increase its margin to 10% over the next few quarters. In the second quarter, the company's Ebitda (earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortisation) margin was at 6.4%.

"Our business model is not to grow our margin to 20%, but to 10%. We acquired Black Box when it was not making profit, before Covid-19. But we have been seeing gradual improvement in margin over the last 20 quarters," Verma said.

In 2019, AGC Networks acquired the IT solution provider and in 2021, renamed it Black Box. The company is headquartered in Texas but is also listed in "The margin is getting better with scale, because the gin." company's fixed cost doesn't change," said Verma.

he said that Bengaluru is the heart of the company's productivity. He added that they are considering to relocate about 5% of works to Bengaluru in near future.

"Our productivity expectation from Bengaluru over the next few quarters is going to get the momentum and help our margin," Verma said.

"We are also looking to move some of the non-critical work to Bengaluru. So, a mix of scale, better productivity in Bengaluru and relocating some jobs that are not critical to our shared services would help improve or mar-

The IT company currently has over 4,000 employees and a fourth of its workforce is based in India.

Recently, it opened a new centre of excellence in Bengaluru that is hosting about 300 employees. The company plans to double its Bengaluru headcount in the next two years.

Black Box derives about 70% of its revenue from the US and its business model has protected itself from the slowdown in discretionary spends that the IT industry is witnessing. Verma added that a large part of the business is protected by non-discretionary spends.

The company provides critical digital infrastructure support, that are not discretionary in nature, to clients tionary in nature.

India-specific LLMs crucial: SAP

Local languages key to AI development in biz applications

AYANTI BERA Bengaluru, December 19

LARGE LANGAUGE MODELS developed in India and trained on data sets in vernacular languages are crucial for the development of AI in business applications from a language perspective, said Thomas Saueressig, a member of the executive board of German software giant SAP SE.

"As many as 1.4 billion people live in India, so Indian data and Indian large language models are going to be absolutely critical," SAP's deputy chairperson of the supervisory board Punit Renjen said, when asked about the importance of Indian LLMs.

INDIA STORY

SAP launched Joule, a natural-language, generative AI copilot

Two other Indian LLMs are Krutrim, built on lines of ChatGPT, and OpenHathi OpenHathi is first

Hindi LLM launched

by startup Sarvam

Earlier this year, SAP launched Joule, a natural-language, generative AI copilot that will be embedded throughout the company's cloud enterprise portfolio, providing proactive and contextualized insights. The research and development of Joule has been done in SAP's largest R&D centre located in Bengaluru. So far, two Indian large language models have been launched. Ola co-founder Bhavish Aggarwal unveiled a 'Made in India' large language model and generative AI platform, Krutrim, on the lines of OpenAI's ChatGPT earlier this month. The platform is trained on 2 trillion tokens or pieces of textual information, having the largest representation of Indian data. Besides, Peak XVbacked Indian startup Sarvam has also launched the first Hindi large language model "OpenHathi".

In a media briefing, the company also said that it has hired around 1,500 people this year for SAP Labs India and expects to hire a similar number of people next year. SAP Labs currently has about 15,000 employees in India, which the company plans to double in the coming few years.

"Nearly 40% of the global R&D workforce is based in India," noted Sindhu Gangadharan, senior vice president and managing director at SAP Labs India. The company is building a new campus in Devanahalli, near Kempegowda International Airport, Bengaluru, which will house the new set of 15,000 employees when completed.

"The new campus will be operational in the beginning of 2025 and in the first phase we will have a capacity of 3,000 employees," she added.

SAP's management also emphasized on the growth opportunity it sees in India, with Renjen adding "This is India's century."

Domino's to revamp packaging, decor

GEETIKA SRIVASTAVA New Delhi, December 19

PIZZA CHAIN DOMINO'S India on Tuesday announced a rebranding exercise along with the launch of its latest campaign, 'It Happens Only with Pizza' (IHOP).

The exercise includes a new design for the QSR chain's iconic blue pizza boxes and staff uniforms, along with revamped dine-in areas and a greater push to communication on digital platforms. The company has also launched a brand anthem composed by Prasoon Joshi, and put up a first-of-its-kind 3D anamorphic billboard in New Delhi.
